AMERICAN
FOOTBALL LEAGUE
CHAMPIONS

1963. It was a very good football year for the Chargers. They roared to the American Football League's Western Division title with a record of 11-3. Old pro quarterback Tobin Rote was the league's top passer and he had a sensational young receiver in Lance Alworth (61 catches). On the ground, Paul Lowe pranced (1,121 yards) and Keith Lincoln exploded (826). With Lincoln amassing 349 yards total offense, the Chargers climaxed their greatest season on Jan. 5, 1964 by crushing the Boston Patriots, 51-10, in the AFL Championship Game.

EUGENE V. KLEIN
PRESIDENT

Charger president Gene Klein (Right)
Receives Community Service Award
From Big Brothers President Carl Jepsen

Fasten your seat belts, San Diego. Gene Klein is coming aboard. The king-sized lord of finance is moving his main office from Beverly Hills to San Diego Stadium to devote more time to the Chargers in 1973.

A Charger in style as well as name, Eugene Victor Klein is president and majority owner of the club. He bought the team from Barron Hilton for $10 million on Aug. 25, 1966.

Klein is chairman of the board and chief executive officer of National General Corporation, a multi-interest organization with 10,000 employees. But the 40-plus Chargers are not among them. The football team is his own personal investment.

"Buying the Chargers was probably the biggest thrill I've ever had," said Klein.

Klein dreamed of owning a pro football team ever since he was a boy. Born in New York City on Jan. 29, 1921, he played football as an end at New York University. He was a bomber pilot during World War II and came out a captain. He entered the automobile business in Los Angeles after the war and rapidly became a success in the business world. He has two children and is a grandfather.

Klein's civic and charitable affiliations include:

Board of Directors — Constitutional Rights Foundation, Martin Luther King Jr. General Hospital, Cedars Sinai Medical Center; Vice Chairman Board of Trustees City of Hope, Urban Affairs Committee of Anti-Defamation League, District Attorney Advisory Council, Mental Health Assn., Variety Club, Big Brothers Boosters, American Cancer Society, National Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

In 1972, Klein received the Community Service Award from the Big Brothers of San Diego County.

OTHER CHARGER OWNERS are Barron Hilton, who founded the club and retained a substantial interest after the sale, and two of Hilton's original San Diego associates, James Copley and George Pernicano.

Other partners are George Whitney and Bill Fox of San Diego; Jack Ostrow, Frank Rothman and Jack Foreman of Los Angeles; John DeLorean, James Jenkins and Dale F. Carney of Detroit, and John Quirk of La Costa.

HARLAND SVARE
HEAD COACH AND VICE PRESIDENT

Harland Svare is a man of contrasts.

A small-town boy from the West, he really likes New York City. Yet he found quiet San Diego too busy, and resides in little Leucadia, 20 miles away.

A Norwegian, who can't live down the old nickname of Swede, he dotes on Italian cooking and his favorite person is Wernher von Braun, the German rocket scientist.

He plays classical guitar, but also enjoys country-western music. He doesn't like to walk. So he walked 20 miles one day as San Diego chairman for "Walk for Mankind."

Charger owner Gene Klein considers Svare unflappable . . . "One of the coolest guys I know." Yet say a bad word about the New York Giants and watch Harland's old loyalty enflame him.

Svare, the name is pronounced S-var-e, arrived in San Diego in 1971 as general manager. After 18 years as player and coach, it was a nice position to contemplate. Let others suffer on the field of battle. He was going to rediscover scuba diving.

So at the first opportunity, Svare returned to the battlefield. He accepted when Gene Klein asked him to become interim coach for the last four games of the season following the resignation of Sid Gillman. He accepted again when offered the position on a full-time basis at the end of the 1971 season.

He received a new five-year contract as head coach and vice president midway through 1972.

Harland James Svare was born in Clarkfield, Minn., on Nov. 25, 1930. His family moved to Poulsbo, Wash., when he was 11. An offensive and defensive end, he played at North Kitsap High School in Poulsbo and Washington State University. He caught three touchdown passes in one game against Idaho.

Svare was drafted No. 17 by the Rams in 1953 and traded to the New York Giants in 1955. A right linebacker, he was an integral part of the great Giant defensive units which helped win the NFL Championship in 1956 and Eastern Division titles in 1958 and 1959.

Svare remembers the Giants' 47-7 rout of the Bears in 1956 with a special feeling. "To be champion is an unsurpassable experience, the thrill of a lifetime."

Svare began his coaching career as defensive assistant with the Giants in 1960. He joined Bob Waterfield's staff at Los Angeles in 1962. When Waterfield resigned after eight games, Svare, at 31, became the youngest head coach in pro football. His 3½-year tenure with the Rams (14-31-3) was notable for the development of the Rams' great defensive line of Deacon Jones, Merlin Olsen, Rosie Grier and Lamar Lundy.

After spending 1966 as a stockbroker in Los Angeles, Svare returned to the Giants as defensive coach. When Vince Lombardi became coach of the Washington Redskins in 1969, he summoned Harland to become his defensive coach. He was named general manager of the Chargers in February of 1971.

Harland and Annette Svare have a daughter, Mia, 3.

IRV KAZE
ASSISTANT TO THE PRESIDENT

Irv Kaze was appointed in 1971 to the new position of Assistant to the President. Business Manager of the club since 1967, Kaze was promoted to take charge of overall administration.

Kaze is a popular figure in sports with a background in football, baseball and the news media. Prior to coming to San Diego, he served as publicity director of the American Football League in 1966, the year of the merger between the leagues.

Baseball was Irv's life for 12 years. As a publicity director, he climbed the ranks from the Hollywood Stars of the old Pacific Coast League to the Pittsburgh Pirates. After a two-year stint as CBS Sports Publicity Director in New York, he returned to baseball and California in 1960 as publicity director of the new Los Angeles Angels until 1966.

Kaze is an alumnus of New York University and a Navy veteran. He is an avid tennis player. Irv and Dee Kaze have two sons.

JERRY WYNN
DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC RELATIONS

Jerry Wynn begins his ninth year as Director of Public Relations of the Chargers.

Wynn was assistant sports editor, columnist and Rams' writer for the Long Beach Press Telegram, an Air Force officer and graduate of the University of Illinois. In 1967, he was president of the American Football League public relations directors.

Wynn became an accredited member of the Public Relations Society of America in 1971. He is on the board of directors of the San Diego Sigma Delta Chi Foundation, and is affiliated with the Advertising and Sales Club, Public Relations Club, Sportscasters and Sportswriters Assn., National Academy Television Arts and Sciences and San Diego Historical Society.

Jerry and Barbara Wynn have three children.

TOM MINER
VICE PRESIDENT PLAYER RELATIONS

Tom Miner was appointed to the new position of Vice President Player Relations in 1972. Director of Player Personnel since 1967, Miner was promoted to take charge of all areas of scouting and drafting.

From Checotah, Okla., Miner was twice an All-Missouri Valley Conference end and placekicker at Tulsa University. He chose to play professionally with Calgary in Canada and scored 84 points in 1954. He also played at Winnipeg before joining the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1958. He scored 73 points that year with a team record 14 field goals including one of 47 yards against Cleveland.

From 1960 through 1962, Miner served as end coach and chief scout at Tulsa. He entered the sporting goods business in Tulsa in 1963 and began his career with the Chargers as a part-time area scout in the Southwest and Missouri Valley. He joined the San Diego staff full-time in 1966.

Tom and Pat Miner have two daughters.

RON MIX
EXECUTIVE COUNSEL

Ron Mix moved from the playing field to the front office in 1973 to fill the new staff position of Executive Counsel. He handles contract negotiations with players and trade negotiations with other clubs.

A member of the first Charger team in 1960 and star offensive right tackle with the Chargers through 1969, Mix retired in 1970 to finish law school at the University of San Diego and pass the California State Bar. He returned to football in 1971 and ended his career with the Oakland Raiders in 1971 and 1972.

A native of Los Angeles and all-America and team captain at USC, Mix was a No. 1 draft choice of the Baltimore Colts in 1960. Instead, he chose the Chargers of the new American Football League. Nine times he was selected to the all-league team. He played in seven All-Star games and five championship games. A student and author, he earned the nickname "Intellectual Assassin."

Ron and Pat Mix have two daughters.

COACHING STAFF

Bob Schnelker ... Head Offense

Bob Schnelker took command of the Charger offense in 1972 after eight years as a coach at Green Bay and one at Los Angeles.

A standout tight end in the New York Giants' championship era (1954-60), Bob played in five NFL title games and two Pro Bowl games. He ended his playing career in 1961 at Minnesota and Pittsburgh. He joined the Rams' coaching staff in 1963 and went to Green Bay under Vince Lombardi in 1964.

Schnelker was born in Galion, Ohio, Oct. 17, 1928. He attended Bowling Green and was drafted No. 17 by Cleveland in 1953. Bob and his wife, B. J., have three children.

George Dickson ... Offensive Backs

A veteran of 17 years as a coach, George Dickson arrived in San Diego in 1972 for his seventh NFL affiliation.

After serving in the Army as a paratrooper and middleweight boxing champion, Dickson attended Notre Dame where he played quarterback behind Johnny Lujack and George Ratterman. He became an assistant coach at Notre Dame, and subsequently served on the college staffs at USC, Pacific and Oklahoma and pro staffs at Oakland, Denver, Atlanta, New Orleans, Washington and Houston.

Dickson was born in Boston on Sept. 27, 1924.

Forrest Gregg ... Offensive Line

Forrest Gregg ended a 15-year pro playing career to join the Charger coaching staff in 1972.

A bulwark of the powerful Green Bay Packer teams as an eight-time all-pro offensive right tackle, Gregg played with the Packers in 1956, 1958-70. He earned his third Super Bowl victory ring with the Dallas Cowboys in 1971. He holds the NFL record of playing in 188 consecutive games. He was a player-coach at Green Bay in 1969-70.

Gregg was born in Birthright, Tex., Oct. 18, 1933. He attended SMU and was drafted No. 2 by the Packers in 1955. Forrest and his wife, Barbara, have two children.

Walt Yowarsky ... Defensive Line

San Diego in 1972 is the ninth NFL affiliation for Walt Yowarsky in a career spanning nine years as a player and 14 years as a coach.

A two-way tackle, Walt played with Washington, Detroit, New York and San Francisco from 1951-59. He played in two NFL title games while with the Giants from 1955-58. As a coach, he served with the Giants, Minnesota, Atlanta, New Orleans and Houston.

Yowarsky was born in Cleveland on May 10, 1928. He attended the University of Kentucky. He was "MVP" in the 1951 Sugar Bowl when Kentucky stopped Oklahoma's 33-game streak, 13-7. Walt and his wife, Bobbie, have three children.

Rick Redman ... Linebackers ... See Page 37

Willie Wood ... Defensive Backs

Willie Wood became a Charger coach in 1972 after a 12-year playing career with the Green Bay Packers.

After writing to the Packers for a tryout and signing as a free agent, Willie became one of pro football's most outstanding defensive backs. He intercepted 48 passes from his free safety position and was annually a ranking punt returner. A consensus all-pro selection from 1964-67, he played in eight Pro Bowl games.

Wood was born in Washington, D.C. on Dec. 23, 1936. He attended USC and played quarterback. Willie and his wife, Sheila have two children.

Ron Waller ... Special Teams

First player signed by the Los Angeles Chargers in 1960, Ron Waller began his NFL coaching career with the San Diego Chargers in 1972.

An exciting running back for the Rams in 1955-58, Waller was the Rams' "Most Outstanding Back" in 1955 and played in the 1956 Pro Bowl. He continued in football as general manager and head coach of teams in the Atlantic Coast League and won titles the last three years at Pottstown, Pa., and Norfolk, Va.

Waller was born in Hastings, Fla., on Feb. 14, 1933. He attended Maryland and was drafted No. 2 by the Rams in 1954.

PLAYER PERSONNEL

Aubrey (Red) Phillips . . . Talent Scout

Aubrey Clyde (Red) Phillips Jr. joined the Chargers as a full-time scout in 1967.

Phillips was a center and linebacker at Texas Tech, played pro football at Saskatchewan and Regina of the Canadian League and coached for 15 years in high school and as an assistant in college at Texas Tech, South West Louisiana and Northwestern Louisiana.

A native of Abbot, Tex., and resident of Arlington, Tex., Phillips is married (Kathryn) with five children.

Bob Moorman . . . Talent Scout

A retired Army Major, Clinton Robert (Bob) Moorman joined the Chargers as a full-time scout in 1969.

Moorman was an end at Hampton Institute and played in the Rice Bowl in Japan. He had combat in World War II and the Korean War as an infantryman and paratrooper. He coached the Ft. Dix Army team and at Wiley College.

A native of Columbus, O., and resident of Hampton, Va., Moorman is married (Tamiko) with two children.

Ray Newman . . . Talent Scout

Ray Newman joined the Chargers in 1972 after serving four years as a scout for the New Orleans Saints.

Newman attended Idaho State College, where he played defensive end. He earned a Masters Degree from Fresno State. He coached in high school and at Bakersfield Junior College for 15 years. His teams were champions consistently.

A native of Wilsall, Mont., and resident of Bakersfield, Newman is married (Jenny) with two children.

MEDICAL STAFF

Dr. E. Paul Woodward . . . Team Physician

Dr. E. Paul Woodward is the highly-regarded team physician of the Chargers.

A native Texan and San Diego resident since 1953, Dr. Woodward has treated the Chargers for 8 years. He is a member of the American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons. He is a graduate of the University of Texas and Tulane Medical School.

Paul and Jean Woodward have five children.

Ric McDonald . . . Trainer

Ric McDonald joined the Chargers as trainer in 1972.

McDonald attended the University of Utah, received a Certificate in Physical Therapy from the University of California and earned a Masters Degree in Physical Education from USIU. He was trainer of all teams and faculty member at USIU from 1969 through 1971.

A native of Salt Lake City, McDonald is single.

Jim Hammond . . . Assistant Trainer

He wasn't big enough to play football in high school. So Jim Hammond did the next best thing for him. He became an athletic trainer.

Starting his fourth year as assistant trainer of the Chargers, Hammond was a student trainer at Sweetwater High School, Southwestern Junior College, University of Hawaii and San Diego State College before joining the Charger staff in July, 1969.

Jim is single and lives in Chula Vista.

COACHING AIDES

Bob Hood . . . Executive Assistant

Bob Hood was promoted in 1973 to the new position of Executive Assistant to head coach Harland Svare. He administers football activities.

Hood began his Charger career as water boy in 1962, and since has handled almost every non-playing position. Among them are photographer, film manager, assistant equipment manager, purchasing agent, training camp coordinator and ticket promotions.

Hood is a graduate of San Diego State and is planning to study for a law degree.

Gene Leff . . . Director of Photography

Gene Leff joined the Charger staff in a full-time capacity in 1970, but has been associated with Charger filming since 1962.

A professional ice skater for 14 years as member of the Flip And Flop comedy team, Leff turned to photography and worked for the San Diego Gulls, Rockets, and NFL Films in addition to the Chargers. He has filmed and edited several Charger hi-lite films.

A native of Cleveland, Leff is married (Donna) with three children.

Maylen . . . Strength Coach

Maylen is his name. Just Maylen. He is the strength coach of the Chargers.

Proprietor of the La Jolla Health Studio, Maylen supervises the physical conditioning of the Chargers on a full-year basis.

Maylen won the "Mr. San Diego" contest for physical fitness in 1962. He has been involved in physical conditioning since 1950 and active in San Diego since 1958. His weight-lifting teams have won Pacific Coast titles. Among athletes he has trained is former national discus champion Fortune Gordien.

Sid Brooks . . . Equipment Manager

Sid Brooks joined the Charger staff in 1973 after a 20-year career in the Air Force.

Brooks retired as a Senior Master Sergeant at the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, where he supervised the Cadet Athletic Supply Branch. He earned 12 Air Force awards for outstanding service including "Outstanding Airman of Year" in Viet Nam in 1972.

A native of St. Genevieve, Mo., Brooks is married (Gerri) with four children.

Gary McCauley . . . Asst. Dir. of Photography

Diversification marks Gary McCauley's position on the Charger staff.

McCauley joined the Chargers in 1972 as the assistant director of photography. He also has worked with the business, scouting and equipment departments. The Air Force veteran is enrolled in graduate school at San Diego State.

A native of Boulder, Colo. Gary is married to Wendy, an airline stewardess.

Bronco Hinek . . . Asst. Equipment Manager

Bronco Hinek was promoted to assistant equipment manager in 1973 after four years as chief clubhouse attendant.

Son of a former equipment manager of the Oakland Raiders Frank Hinek, Bronco knows his way around a clubhouse and also is a good player. He works out with the players after practice.

Hinek, 22, is single and will continue to study for a physical education degree at San Diego State in the off-season.

ADMINISTRATION

Phil Barile . . . Ticket Manager

Ticket manager Phil Barile, the man to call for 50-yard line seats, is a charter member of the Chargers organization.

Before settling down to the football position in 1960, Barile touched most bases of Los Angeles sports. He was ticket manager of the Pan-Pacific Auditorium for four years and worked for the Dodgers, Rams and Santa Anita and Hollywood Park.

Phil's lovely wife is Louise.

Frances Beede . . . Controller

A woman administrator in a man's world of pro football is Charger controller Frances Beede.

Frances joined the club when it moved to San Diego in 1961. She is beginning her 13th year on the staff. She cares for the books and cares about the people with the Chargers.

Frances has three children.

Walter Hoye . . . Asst. Director of Public Relations

Walter Hoye is entering his sixth year on the Charger staff as assistant director of public relations.

Hoye served four years with the Michigan Chronicle as sports editor and columnist and covered the Detroit Lions. He attended Wayne State University. He is a member of the Executive Board of the San Diego Urban League, United Way of San Diego County, San Diego Chamber of Commerce and National Black Alliance.

1973 OUTLOOK

Harland Svare Welcomes John and Sandy Unitas
to San Diego Stadium

Peeping out from the catacombs of the AFC West, the San Diego Chargers see sunshine on the horizon.

Coach Harland Svare envisions a "sharply improved team," while Charger watchers are intrigued by the addition of a Living Legend, John Unitas; quarterback-destroyer Coy Bacon and Viennese field-goal kicker Gunter Enz.

San Diego had a dandy of a 4-9-1 team in 1972. Despite a No. 5 ranked AFC defense and a No. 6 offense, the Chargers had the misfortune of tackling the toughest schedule in the NFL in a year of rebuilding. Finally, they were impaled on a banana peel with 48 turnovers.

While looking back, Svare accentuates the positive. "We made some great strides last year. On defense, we accomplished our goal. We went from worst to respectable. On offense, we developed a strong running attack. We learned what it means to control the football."

While looking ahead, Svare plots the outline for a title contender this year. "There isn't that much separating us from Oakland, Kansas City and Denver. On defense, we must advance from respectable to good. On offense, we must whip the turnover problem."

CHARGER TRADES OF 1973

Cash ($150,000) to Baltimore for quarterback John Unitas; No. 8 draft choice to Baltimore for running back Tom Matte; quarterback John Hadl to Los Angeles for defensive lineman Coy Bacon and running back Bob Thomas; safety Chuck Detwiler, defensive end Lee Thomas and player to be named later to Buffalo for draft choice; draft choice to Chicago for safety Ron Smith.

OUTLOOK BY POSITIONS

Quarterbacks—San Diego traded its quarterback of 11 years, John Hadl, to the Los Angeles Rams for defensive lineman Coy Bacon and running back Bob Thomas. With Hadl the Chargers ranked No. 5 in passing in the AFC last year. But the attack often was stymied by 28 interceptions. Replacing Hadl was top priority and the Chargers acquired the top man available. John Unitas was purchased from Baltimore. At 40 and after 17 seasons, pro football's most honored quarterback needs only 202 yards passing to reach 40,000; four completions for 2,800 and 13 touchdown passes to achieve 300. In addition to Unitas, San Diego has a strong-armed young veteran in Wayne Clark, slightly used in three years on the team. Rookie prospects are No. 3 draft choice, Dan Fouts from Oregon, and No. 14, Tony Adams from Utah State.

Running Backs—San Diego ran strongly in 1972 and the position will be deeper this year. Mike Garrett (1,031 yards) and Cid Edwards (679 yards) gave the 1972 Chargers their best 1-2 running since Paul Lowe (1,121) and Keith Lincoln (826) in 1963. Garrett, 5-9, 190, achieved his second 1,000-yard season and ranked No. 5 in the AFC. Edwards, 6-2, 230, was selected the team's MVP for his all-around effort, which included 40 catches for 557 yards. Challenging the incumbents will be bullet-quick Bob Thomas, who had two 100-yard games at Los Angeles in 1972. Inactive last year, Duane Thomas may return this year. Lee White and Jesse Taylor were the top substitutes in 1972. Another newcomer is Travis Williams.

Wide Receivers—Perennial all-star Gary Garrison heads a potentially strong corps of receivers. Gary "The Ghost" is the constant factor. In 1972, he caught 52 passes for 744 yards and 7 touchdowns. It was his seventh successive season of more than 40 catches, a distinction he holds alone in the NFL. If Jerry LeVias can come back strongly from knee surgery, the Chargers will have plenty of firepower. Also competing for starting positions will be returnees Chuck Dicus and Dave Williams. A 9.1 track star is rookie Willie McGee from Alcorn A&M. Among Levias, Ron Smith, Travis Williams and McGee, the Chargers could turn a punt-kick return deficiency of 1972 into a 1973 bonanza.

Tight Ends—Who else at tight end for John Unitas than his long-time Colt touchdown partner John Mackey. But in San Diego, Pettis Norman has been a starter for two years, a powerful blocker who caught 19 passes for 262 yards in 1972. James Thaxton, No. 4 draft choice from Tennessee State, is 6-3, 235 and runs a 4.7.

Offensive Line—The offense line is the strongest, deepest unit on the Chargers. In 1972 it ranked No. 3 in the AFC in pass protection, allowing 23 sacks. Starters at tackles are Terry Owens (6-6, 260) and Russ Washington (6-6, 289), at guards are Doug Wilkerson (6-3, 250) and Walt Sweeney (6-4, 256) and at center is Carl Mauck (6-4, 243). All have all-star capability and Sweeney has been an all-star pick since 1964. Ernie Wright, Sam Gruneisen, Ira Gordon, Ralph Wenzel and Harris Jones are all experienced reserves.

Kickers—After turning back a place-kicking challenge from Arkansas' Bill McClard in 1972, Dennis Partee this year faces an adversary from Austria, Gunter Enz. Partee hasn't missed a field goal under 30 yards in two years and set a club record 51-yard field goal in 1972. However, his punting average dipped to 40.3 last year. A pro soccer player, Enz was discovered during a European manhunt by the Chargers.

Defensive Line—San Diego has turned its once threadbare position into a full cupboard. Fifth in the NFL against rushing and with 26 sacks, Charger forwards had a fine year in 1972. Returning starters are ends Deacon Jones (6-4, 272) and Lionel Aldridge (6-3, 254) and tackles Ron East (6-4, 250) and Dave Costa (6-1, 255). Jones and Aldridge found their fountain of youth in San Diego, Jones topping linemen with 72 total tackles and Aldridge leading in sacks with eight. A Pro Bowl end with the Rams Coy Bacon probably will be tried at tackle by the Chargers. He is 6-4, 270, with 15 sacks in 1972 and 14 in 1971. Greg Wojcik (6-6, 268) and Cal Snowden (6-4, 253) also will contend for a starting position.

Linebackers—Tim Rossovich in the middle, Bob Babich on the strong side and player-coach Rick Redman on the weak side could be a winning combination. However, all were injured last year and linebacking depth could be a problem this year. Rossovich came on strongly towards the end of 1972 after being sidelined by a knee injury. Babich played most of the year with a bruised knee. Despite missing the last few games, Redman led the team in individual tackles with 49. In reserve are veterans Pete Lazetich, Mel Rogers and Ray White.

Defensive Backs—San Diego raised its interception total to 24 in 1972 despite being handicapped by injuries to starting defensive backs Bob Howard and Chris Fletcher. Howard returns this year to join Leonard Dunlap at the cornerbacks. Fletcher will have to battle Joe Beauchamp for the free safety position. Lanky Bryant Salter, who led the team with seven interceptions, is at strong safety. Newcomer Ron Smith, Ray Jones and Reggie Berry are experienced reserves.

CHARGER HISTORY

Aug. 14: First organizational meeting of the proposed American Football League is held in Chicago with six teams, including a Los Angeles entry represented by Barron Hilton. Plans are made for start of league play in 1960 season.

Oct. 14: Frank Leahy, former Notre Dame coach, signs contract to become general manager of Chargers.

Jan. 7: Sid Gillman signs three-year contract to coach the Chargers.

April 9: A total of 207 candidates report to special Charger tryout camp at Burbank.

June 9: Chargers and other members of the AFL sign a five-year contract with the American Broadcasting Company for network telecasting of games.

July 1: General Manager Frank Leahy resigns because of ill health.

July 9: Sid Gillman takes over dual role of coach and general manager.

Aug. 6: Paul Lowe returns opening kickoff of first pre-season game 105 yards for touchdown as Chargers defeat the New York Titans, 27-7, before 27,778 at Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum.

Sept. 10: Chargers rally for two touchdowns in last quarter to defeat the Dallas Texans, 21-20, in first league game before 17,724 at Coliseum.

Dec. 10: Chargers outscore Denver, 41-33, to earn first Western Division championship of the AFL. Only 9,928 fans watch game at Coliseum.

Dec. 18: The Chargers, playing their last home game under Los Angeles banner, turn back New York, 50-43, and wind up first season with 10 victories and 4 defeats.

Jan. 1: Chargers lose first AFL championship game to Houston Oilers, 24-16, before 32,183 in Houston.

Feb. 10: AFL gives formal approval for Barron Hilton to shift Los Angeles franchise to San Diego.

Aug. 6: Playing in a setting more reminiscent of ancient Roman ruins than a football stadium, the Chargers defeat Houston, 27-14, before 12,304 sun-baked fans in first AFL pre-season game in Balboa Stadium. Scaffolds, lumber, scattered concrete and open trenches from the enlargement and overhauling operation littered the area. Temperature reached 95 degrees.

Nov. 19: A crowd of 33,788, largest of the first campaign in San Diego, watch as the Chargers defeat Dallas, 24-14, for their 11th victory of the season and 15th consecutive triumph. It clinches their second Western Division championship with five weeks remaining on the schedule. Safetyman Charlie McNeil made the Chargers' 43rd pass interception to establish an all-time pro football record that increased to 49 by season's end.

Dec. 24: Chargers drop their second AFL Championship playoff to Houston, 10-3, in a defensive battle before 29,556 in Balboa Stadium.

Jan. 7: Coached by Sid Gillman and featuring 11 Chargers, the West defeats the East, 42-27, in the first AFL All-Star game before 20,973 in Balboa Stadium. Charger ends Dave Kocourek and Don Norton each catch touchdown passes.

Sept. 26: Charger quarterback Jack Kemp, suffering from an injured hand, is placed on waiver list and claimed for $100 by Buffalo.

Dec. 16: Chargers drop 26-17 decision at Dallas to wind up with their worst season — 4 victories, 10 defeats. During the season 23 players missed two or more games because of injuries.

Jan. 13: The West defeats the East, 21-14, in second AFL All-Star game in Balboa Stadium. End Earl Faison of the Chargers is named the outstanding defensive player.

Jan. 14: Quarterback Tobin Rote, a National Football League and Canadian Football League great, quits Toronto and signs contract with Chargers.

April 30: Barron Hilton and his father, Conrad, sell one-third interest in Chargers to San Diego businessmen John Mabee, George Pernicano, Kenneth Swanson and James Copley and M. L. Bengston of Los Angeles.

Dec. 22: Eight Chargers score as team rolls to a 58-20 victory over Denver in the finale of the 1963 regular season. Point spree stands as San Diego record and helped team wind up with 11-3 mark.

Jan. 5: Chargers win their first AFL title with a rousing 51-10 conquest of Boston before 30,127 in Balboa Stadium. Fullback Keith Lincoln gains 206 yards in 13 carries, scores two touchdowns and accounts for 349 yards total offense.

Jan. 19: Keith Lincoln named the outstanding offensive player as West defeats the East, 27-14, in the annual AFL All-Star game. A crowd of 20,016 watched in Balboa Stadium.

Jan. 29: Chargers and seven other members of the AFL sign a five-year television contract for a record $36 million with the National Broadcasting Company (NBC) to commence with the 1965 season.

Nov. 26: A Balboa Stadium attendance record of 34,865 is established as the Chargers bow to Buffalo, 27-24, on Thanksgiving Day.

Dec. 6: Chargers defeat New York, 38-3, for eighth victory of the season and their fourth Western Division championship.

Dec. 26: With Lance Alworth out because of injury and Keith Lincoln sidelined early in the first quarter with a fractured rib, the Chargers drop a 20-7 verdict and the AFL championship to Buffalo before 40,242 in War Memorial Stadium.

Jan. 16: Fullback Keith Lincoln of Chargers helps the West continue its All-Star game supremacy over the East with a 28-14 victory in Houston. The game was switched from New Orleans to Houston on one-day's notice. Lincoln was named the outstanding offensive player in a game that also featured Charger quarterback John Hadl, who threw three TD passes.

Nov. 2: Construction of the $27 million San Diego Stadium authorized by a 73 per cent "yes" vote by San Diego citizens.

Dec. 19: Chargers defeat Oakland, 24-14, to wind up season with a 9-2-3 record and their fifth Western Division crown. Lance Alworth gained 160 yards to push his season total to 1,602 yards.

Dec. 23: Paul Lowe, who set league rushing record of 1,121 yards, and Lance Alworth finish one-two in "Player of the Year" voting by AFL players.

Dec. 26: For the second year in row, Buffalo defeats Chargers in the AFL Championship game. This Balboa Stadium encounter wound up, 23-0.

Jan. 15: Linebacker Frank Buncom survived an early-game injury to earn most valuable defensive player honors as the All-Stars defeated league champion Buffalo, 30-19, before 35,572 in Houston. Lance Alworth scored two touchdowns on passes from Jets' Joe Namath and Paul Lowe scored on a one-yard rush.

June 8: The American Football League and the National Football League announce a plan which would see the two leagues merge for the 1970 season. Chargers announce three-year, pre-season game contract with the Los Angeles Rams in the new San Diego Stadium.

Aug. 25: A group of 21 business executives, headed by Eugene Klein and Samuel Schulman of Beverly Hills, purchase the Chargers for $10 million. Klein and Schulman become general partners with Klein replacing Hilton as club president and Schulman taking over as chairman of the board. Barron Hilton and Conrad Hilton retain a substantial interest in the team. James Copley, San Diego newspaper publisher, and George Pernicano, restaurant owner, retain a limited interest.

Nov. 10: Sid Gillman receives a new five-year contract as coach and general manager.

Dec. 18: Eight catches for 156 yards against Kansas City pushes Alworth to a season and all-time Charger high of 73 catches (1,383 yards).

Dec. 24: Ground-breaking ceremonies in Mission Valley signal start of work on the 50,000-seat, $28 million San Diego Stadium, future home of the Chargers.

Aug. 20: San Diego Stadium dedicated as 45,988 fans watch Chargers, playing first National Football League opponent, lose 38-17 pre-season game to the Detroit Lions.

Aug. 27: A San Diego crowd of 46,293 watches in dismay as Chargers are trounced by the Los Angeles Rams, 50-7, in first game between rivals.

Oct. 15: The Chargers and defending AFL champion Kansas City Chiefs combine for a total of 897 yards total offense and another 562 yards in returns as San Diego scores a thrilling, 45-31 victory. Speedy Duncan returns interception 100 yards for new AFL record.

Dec. 24: For the fifth consecutive season, Lance Alworth tops the 1,000-yard mark when he catches two passes for 29 yards against New York. He completed season with 52 catches and 1,010 yards.

Aug. 24: John Hadl passes for 302 yards and two touchdowns as Chargers wallop the Los Angeles Rams, 35-13, before 52,126 at San Diego Stadium.

Oct. 13: With Lance Alworth catching nine passes for 182 yards and Gene Foster rushing for 104 yards, Chargers upset AFL champion Raiders, 23-14, at Oakland. Loss broke Oakland's 14-game win streak and was first at home for Raiders in three years.

Nov. 24: Speedy Duncan sets AFL record with 95-yard punt return.

Dec. 15: Lance Alworth captures AFL titles for most catches (68) and most yards gained (1,312) in sixth successive 1,000-yard season.

1969

Sept. 28: San Diego Stadium record crowd of 54,042 watches as Chargers defeat New York Jets, 34-27. Gary Garrison catches 10 passes for 188 yards and two touchdowns.

Nov. 10: Sid Gillman announces his retirement from coaching because of a stomach ulcer and chest hernia. He continues as general manager. Offensive backfield coach Charlie Waller is appointed head coach.

Dec. 14: In last regular-season American Football League game, Chargers defeat Buffalo Bills, 45-6, for fourth win in row. Lance Alworth catches pass in 96th consecutive game to break pro record of Don Hutson with Hutson present to congratulate him. Alworth captures AFL title for most catches (68) and completes seventh consecutive 1,000-yard season. Dickie Post wins AFL rushing title with 873 yards. Dennis Partee wins AFL punting title with 44.6 average, a new Charger record.

Jan. 17: John Hadl earns "Most Valuable Player" selection as he leads West over East, 26-3, in last American League All-Star Game at Houston.

Nov. 1: Chargers defeat Cleveland Browns, 27-10, at Cleveland Municipal Stadium before 80,047, largest crowd ever to see the Chargers play.

Dec. 30: Sid Gillman returns as head coach in staff reorganization announced by club president Gene Klein. Charlie Waller is appointed offense coach and Irv Kaze is promoted to assistant to president. Position of general manager is designated and filled later by Harland Svare.

1971

May 19: Chargers trade Lance Alworth to Dallas for Pettis Norman, Ron East and Tony Liscio.

Nov. 22: Sid Gillman resigns from Chargers by "mutual consent" with club president Gene Klein. General Manager Harland Svare is appointed interim coach.

Dec. 5: Record San Diego Stadium crowd of 54,505 sees Chargers upset Minnesota Vikings, 30-14. It was most points scored against Vikings in three years.

Dec. 19: Harland Svare is appointed permanent head coach in locker room press conference at Houston's Astrodome. Tom Miner is promoted to vice president player relations.

1972

Jan. 18: John Hadl is named National Football League "Man of Year" in balloting by fans for top citizen-athlete of 1971. A $25,000 scholarship fund in Hadl's name will benefit San Diego boys.

Jan. 29: Chargers obtain Deacon Jones from Rams in trade for Jeff Staggs and three high draft choices. Chargers also receive Greg Wojcik and Lee White.

July 30-31: In a 12-hour trading binge, Chargers acquire Duane Thomas from Dallas for Billy Parks and Mike Montgomery; Tim Rossovich from Philadelphia for No. 1 draft choice, and Dave Costa from Denver for No. 3 draft choice and Eddie Ray.

Dec. 3: Record San Diego Stadium crowd of 54,611 sees Chargers lose to Oakland, 21-19.

Dec. 10: Mike Garrett gains 59 yards against Denver to pass 1,000 yards for season. He finished with 1,031 yards.

1973

Jan. 22: Chargers obtain quarterback immortal Johnny Unitas from Baltimore for "future considerations."

Jan. 25: In second stage of Unitas acquisition, Chargers trade John Hadl to Los Angeles for defensive lineman Coy Bacon and running back Bob Thomas.

Mar. 1: Former Charger star Ron Mix is appointed to new staff position of Executive Counsel.

'CHARGE!' FIGHT SONG

(Music by Glenn Grossman, lyrics by Adrian Brown.)

You hear a rolling of thunder in the sky
And that's the rolling thunder of our cry
Roll up the score, let's hear the roar . . . CHARGE!

We'll fight the team we face across the field
The Chargers team will never, never yield
Roll up the score, let's hear the roar . . . CHARGE!

Come on 'n charge you Chargers go, go, go
It's no wonder when we roar like thunder
You go San Diego go, go, go
(Repeat First Stanza)

1972 SAN DIEGO CHARGERS

IN MEMORY OF JACK HORRIGAN

Jack Horrigan, vice president public relations for the Buffalo Bills, died on June 2, 1973. He helped fight the early battles of the American Football League and became the historian of "The Other League." To a wonderful man whose greeting was "halo," there is a halo in heaven.
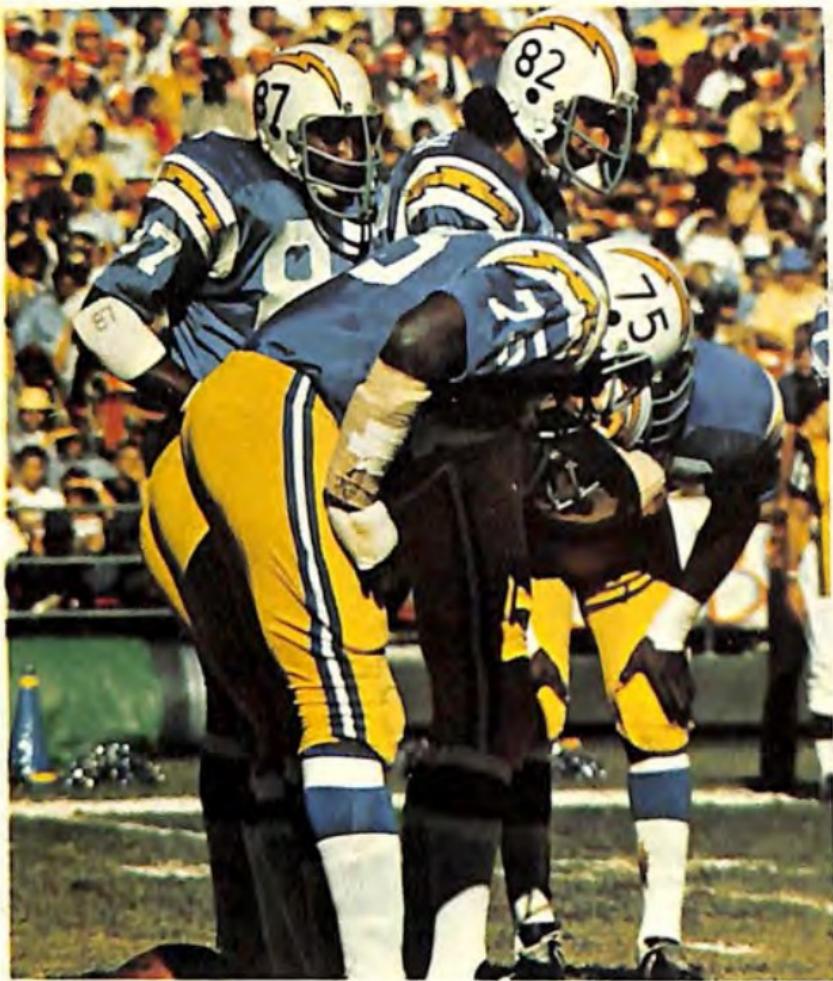

GO CHARGERS!

The 120 franchised 7-Eleven foodstores now serving San Diego County would like to join in wishing the San Diego Chargers best of luck during the 1973 season. Remember, for all your pre-game or post-game party needs, for picnics or other summer get-togethers, 7-Eleven is ready to help. We're there when you need us.
